

Ruby is a highly skilled human resources and organizational development professional with more than fifteen years' experience in high-tech, non-profit, and healthcare organizations. She has proven success in organizational development, strategic human resource program development and implementation, performance management, recruiting, and project management. Ruby is known for her high energy and ability to manage projects and people in a way that builds relationships and gets results.

Prior to joining Lead Star, Ruby began her career at Seagate Technology as part of a strategic global HR team, and served as a Director for the leadership development firm SkyeTeam. Ruby understands the importance of driving business results while creating and maintaining a healthy organizational culture.

Ruby completed her Bachelor's degree at Colorado State University and received her Master's degree in Organizational Leadership from Regis University. Ruby has served various non-profits, and currently works with her local homeless outreach organization (H.O.P.E.).

Ruby resides in Longmont, Colorado where you are most likely to find her enjoying a pint at a local craft brewery with her husband, practicing yoga, or quilting with friends.

CONTACT RUBY

info@leadstar.us
800-381-7780